

IT IS GENERAL NOW.

The Special Delivery System Extends to all Towns in the United States.

Yesterday the special delivery system went into effect in every town in the United States having a population of 4,000 and upwards. And the privilege is not confined to letters, as heretofore, but every article of mailable matter to which is affixed a ten-cent special delivery stamp in addition to the postage required by law, will upon its arrival by mail, have immediate delivery by a special messenger within one mile of any other post office to which it may be addressed. Drop letters and other mailable matter deposited for local delivery in the same manner as matter received at the post-office by mail—and that is the case also with registered letters or parcels which bear the special delivery stamp in addition to the full postage and the registry fee.

The hours within which the special delivery will be made, are from 7 a. m., to 11 p. m., in free-delivery offices, and 7 a. m., to 9 p. m., in all other postoffices. Special delivery stamps will be sold at all postoffices in the United States, and mailable matter intended for special delivery may be mailed at any postoffice, whether the office be small or large.

In his instructions to postmasters, received yesterday, Postmaster General Vilas says: "The department cannot require, as a condition upon which immediate delivery may be made, that special delivery matter shall be addressed to street and number, even when intended for a free-delivery office; but the practice of fully and accurately addressing special-delivery matter, not at letter-carrier offices only, but at all offices, and by street and number wherever practicable, is in every way desirable. It will serve to prevent mistakes as well as facilitate delivery."

Theatrical.

The Kendall dramatic company closes a very successful week at the Olympic theatre at Davenport tonight. The cast is strong throughout, a special feature being the Metropolitan orchestra, which travels with the company. Last night "Kathleen Mavourneen" was presented, and tonight "Pygmalion and Galatea" will be given.

The New York evening Telegram says the following of the drama "One of the Bravest" to be given at Harper's theatre next Monday and Tuesday evenings, for the benefit of the Rock Island fire department.

"One of the Bravest," a sensational drama, was given last evening to an excellent house. The scene of the plot is laid in New York City, and there is a thrilling fire scene, introducing a real fire engine, a hose reel, scaling ladders, and the modern appliances for rescuing the imperiled occupants of blazing tenements. Uniformed firemen showed the workings of the scaling ladders, and the operation of the life chain and jumping blanket. The play, also, introduced a Chinese opium den in full operation, and depicted some of the notorious results of the metropolis. The company was a good one, Mr. Charles McCarthy, as the hero, meeting with much favor, as also did Wm. Cronin and others who introduced their clever specialties.

Charles Pope, the celebrated tragedian, will appear at Harper's theatre next Thursday evening, in Sheridan Knowles' great tragedy, "Vilginius." Pope is said to be the Edwin Forrest of the present day.

Wall & Ill's New Addition.

Wall & Ill have completed their new addition to their already large carriage factory on Third avenue and it is now occupied as a repository. The size of the new addition is 90x20 and two stories high. A valuable improvement to this institution is a large elevator made by the Moline Elevator company, the capacity of which is 2,000 to 3,000 pounds. This elevator is used for the purpose of conveying carriages and buggies from the workshop to the paint rooms and is better adapted for such work than any other elevator manufactured. The excellence of Wall & Ill's work is well known in this vicinity, where their manufactory has been established more than a quarter of a century.

River Riplets.

The Mary Morton came up this morning with a fine trip.

There is a good stage of water at present.

The St. Paul cleared for St. Louis this morning with a nice trip.

The Libbie Conger of the Diamond Jo line has been laid up for the present.

The Pittsburg came from St. Paul this afternoon with a big trip for the United Prophet festivities in St. Louis next week. Two weeks ago today she had the Knights Templar excursion down. Killen's Pittsburg is the most popular packet in this country.

Police Points.

Magistrate Bennett's figures for September were: Total receipts, $35.55; fines, $29.15; police fees, $6.40.

In September the police made forty arrests, distributed accordingly, to the offenses as follows: Peace warrant, fugitive from justice and mayhem, one each; abusive language, disorderly conduct and vagrancy, two each; violating city ordinance and burglary, three each; larceny and assault, four each; disturbing the peace, six, and drunk and disorderly, eleven.

The New Steward.

C. W. Rice, Esq., of Des Moines, Iowa, succeeds Michael O'Connor as steward at the Harper house, and entered upon the discharge of his duties this morning. Mr. Rice is a hotel man of extensive experience, and in the culinary art excels. Mr. O'Connor will henceforth devote himself exclusively to the business of the grocery firm of Truesdale & O'Connor.

Wiggins and Mansell.

Wiggins is no good; he is a prophet without honor in any country. His predicted subterranean upheavals have failed to materialize. The Anous stands by our own Mansell, who has said from the first that planetary phenomena from which he makes his observations and predictions have never sustained any of the Wiggins prophecies—especially his fate ones.

MORGAN AT MOLINE.

The Pseudo Preacher Makes a Contemptible and Lying Attack on his Political Opponent.

The Anous is disappointed in A. R. Morgan, the republican candidate for sheriff of Rock Island county. Nay, more, it is disgusted. It has been laboring under a misapprehension for some time. Notwithstanding his vacillating course in regard to the prohibition question, the Anous supposed he possessed the attributes of a gentleman, but in that supposition it has been woefully mistaken. By his remarks at the Moline meeting last night, Morgan has not only lost all the respect to which a gentleman is entitled, but he bedraggled the purity of his calling into the dust of slander and libel. He went so far as to smirch the good name and character of a man who is his superior in all the qualities that go to make an upright and honest citizen. He, himself, no better than a solicitor of alms from the county, to assist him from becoming a pensioner on the church he represents, has the effrontery and consummate gall to insinuate that his opponent, who has gained a position of independence and standing by hard work and industry, could not be trusted to conduct the high office of sheriff. He said: "What assurance have you that the law will be scrupulously executed by an officer who violates it every day in his life?" Morgan must have a penchant for lying, if he refers to Sharp Silvis violating the law. The remark was as despicable as it was untrue. He went on to say that he was proud, if any one recognized in him the elements of true manhood, and he didn't want anyone to think that he was "too good a man" for the office of sheriff. "Phoo!" it does not seem possible that such a disreputable drive could come from a sane man. If Morgan was not such a prominent prohibitionist, the Anous would do him the courtesy to say that he was drunk when he got off such twaddle, but we cannot even offer this excuse for him.

He, however, subsequently overstepped all bounds of propriety and justice. After the other speakers of the evening had concluded their remarks, some one asked Morgan as to the meaning of an utterance in his previous remarks. He replied by saying that he meant to warn his hearers "to look with suspicion upon any candidate who spends more than the office is worth to get elected. He said: 'I expect to get his money back some how.'"

Was anything more outrageous ever uttered in public against a man who has the respect and confidence of every one who knows him? The merest courtesy to an opponent, if not fairness and justice, should keep a person from making such a remark. Everybody that knows him is aware that Sharp Silvis' strongest and best qualifications are his unswerving fidelity and unimpeachable honesty. If he is spending any money in this campaign—and it is not likely he uses more than any other candidates—the person can rest assured that it belongs to him individually, and he acquired it in perfectly legitimate channels. And no matter how much money he spends the person can depend upon it that Sharp Silvis will always have enough left to pay his honest debts. Can Morgan say as much? We doubt it.

So far the Anous has not entered into personalities in this campaign. It has treated Mr. Morgan fairly, and criticized only his public acts. It has not dealt with his personal habits or private business. It has made no covert insinuations against his character. All charges made against him belong to public record and he does not attempt to deny them. The treatment of the democratic candidate has been just the opposite. Every little mean and petty thing of a personal nature has been brought to the public's attention through the columns of the republican papers. Nothing has been too small or contemptible for them to touch, and now his opponent openly questions his honesty. The Anous is not partial to mud-slinging campaigns, but we have a stock of such ammunition in store, and if Morgan gets "too fresh" we will give him a broadside that will stop his scurrilous tongue.

SUBURBAN SIFTINGS.

HAMPTON, September 29. F. H. Stewart intends moving to Moline soon.

Wm. and John Strackan departed for West Chicago, Iowa Monday night.

Mrs. C. M. Atkinson who has been absent about five months returned Tuesday.

Miss Nellie Hunter leaves this evening for a visit to relatives in Oakland Iowa.

The ladies of the M. E. Church will give a festival next Thursday evening.

F. Baker's residence has been given a new coat of paint by Mr. Ward.

The Hampton grand army post held its regular meeting Saturday evening. It was decided to name the post, "McDaniel Post No. 595" G. A. R.

A "Midnight Marriage" was performed by Rev. J. A. Northrup Wednesday at 12 p. m. The contracting parties came from Rock Island and seemed to be in a hurry.

Disolution Notice.

To whom it may concern: On the 23d of September, A. D., 1886, the firm of Schilling & Trumble, boiler makers of Moline, dissolved partnership, Thomas Trumble assuming all liabilities and is authorized to collect all outstanding debts.

MOLINE, Ill., Sept. 27, 1886. Thomas Trumble will carry on the boiler making business at the same place, and hopes to merit a continuance of the patronage heretofore given the firm.

GOVERNOR BROSS.

His Ideas of the Hennepin Canal—Pleased with Black Hawk's Tower.

Of those gentlemen who have been in the city the past two days in the interests of the Hennepin canal, there were none of more distinction, or who have given more attention and careful study to the project than Governor Bross of Chicago, and whose ideas may be put down as solid, and carrying weight with them, upon any subject he may devote them to.

This distinguished gentleman was seen at the Harper house by an Anous scribe Wednesday night, and when asked as to his views as to the terminus of the proposed canal, he replied:

"The western terminus is a question that should in no way agitate the canal movement now. Let us get the canal, and then we may determine as to routes and termini."

"But, in your opinion governor, which route is preferable?" said the reporter?

"It makes no difference as far as I can see which route is built, for both will eventually come. If the lower is decided upon now, the upper one will follow after a time, and if the upper should be recommended and chosen at first the lower route will be built afterwards. There are many advantages though, that the Rock Island route has that commend it to prompt consideration."

UPPER ILLINOIS AND PROPOSED CANAL ROUTE

"Then it is your opinion that both will be built?"

"Certainly, if the canal is constructed, it will have branches just as a railroad has, and it will be but a matter of time when there will be two forks, one to Rock Island and the other up the river. Let us get the canal through first, and when the excavation has commenced there will be no trouble as to where it will strike the Mississippi, I am sure."

The governor then mentioned the natural beauties of Rock Island and vicinity. "I was out at Black Hawk's watch tower this afternoon," he said; "it was my first visit to that historical summit, and it afforded me very much pleasure. It is without doubt one of the most beautiful spots I have ever seen. I have been all over this country and have traveled extensively in Europe, and I have never seen its equal. The means of conveyance is so convenient, taking one to the very summit of the tower, and the sights so grand that it is strange to me that the resort is not sought by more tourists than it is. I was delighted with it, and I consider the visit one of the most fortunate of my life."

Such a tribute, coming from such a source will certainly gratify the people of Rock Island, whose pride the watch tower is. Gov. Bross is a journalist of the old school; he has had forty years' experience in the newspaper world, and is at present president of the Chicago Tribune company.

Church Services.

All Trinity church services will be held tomorrow at 10:45 a. m. and 12 m., and 7:30 p. m.

"The Christian Brotherhood," at 10:45 a. m. and "Loved Ones in Heaven," a song service, at 7:30 p. m., will be the subjects at the First Methodist Episcopal church, the Rev. R. G. Pearce, D. D., pastor. Sunday school at 9:15 a. m. E. W. Spencer, superintendent. Young people's meeting at 7 p. m.

A Good Investment.

Anyone who has ever dealt in lands, knows that no investment of money will so surely and quickly yield a return, as such a venture if carefully made. To the absolute effect of a government bond, is added a profit far in excess of rate of interest which can be obtained on any safe loan. In Kansas and Nebraska especially lands are raising in value very rapidly and with a steady growth which gives assurance of stability. The good season and the great tide of immigration into these states has made investment there doubly safe and desirable.

The climate of Southern Nebraska and of Kansas, free as it is from the long rigorous cold winter, added to a soil unsurpassed for richness and productive capacity, has made possible the wonderful development of these states. To the farmer they hold out special inducements. Cheap land, easy term of purchase, good markets and varied products enable him to own his farm at a smaller cost and with less labor than is required to pay rent for the land he occupies here, or the interest on the money he has invested in it.

If you are looking for a safe place to invest money, where it will pay you a large and sure profit, or if you are a farmer and want a farm of your own, call on me and see what I have to offer. I will make the visit profitable to you. Office over American Express office, Rock Island, Ill.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE.

John A. Wilson the Democratic and People's Candidate.

John A. Wilson, the next county judge of Rock Island county, was born in Rural township the 14th of May, 1851. was brought up on the farm and received a liberal education, attending a select school at Orion, Ill., and afterward completing it by a business course at the Davenport business college. Mr. Wilson has always been a careful student of the leading questions of the day, espousing the cause of right and justice at all times.

John A. Wilson.

In politics he has always been very liberal, and since the inauguration of the greenback-labor reform party has been a strong champion of its doctrines and principles. In his own town Mr. Wilson stands high in the estimation of the people, having been elected to the office of commissioner of highways in 1870, and in 1880 and 1881 to the office of supervisor, each of which he has filled with credit to himself and his constituents. In 1879 he was the unanimous choice of the Green back convention for county treasurer, receiving a vote which has strengthened his candidacy with the people throughout the entire county. In 1884 he was again called forward, this time as a candidate for the legislature. In this as in his former candidacy Mr. Wilson demonstrated his strength among the masses.

He is the workman's friend, is a laborer himself, is fully competent to fill the office, and being such should and will receive the vote of every workman in the county.

Tonight occurs the dates of the Moline Social club's ball. Do not miss it if you indulge at all in the night fantastic.

Would-be Congressman Gest made an appeal for votes, on the pretense that he was the laboring man's friend. As his (Mr. Gest's) father had been a minister of the gospel, he saw no reason why Parson Morgan should not be elected the next sheriff of Rock Island county.

Mrs. D. L. Higley, wife of a former telegraph operator at Port Byron Junction, who has been on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Wells, wife of Deputy Marshal Wells, left for Medicine Bow, Wyoming, yesterday, where her husband is now employed.

The Moline Malleable iron works had a little trouble yesterday morning. It was believed by the firm that work which belonged to the moulders of the union shops now on a strike was being made by them, which they refused to permit. It was explained to their satisfaction that such was not the case, and the men returned to work.

Chas. F. Hemmaway ran into a rig in which was H. P. Hany, of Galesburg, when driving on the island yesterday, and both vehicles were overturned, and the horses got away. Mr. Hemmaway ran to his barn, the other team belonging to Wilson & Paal's livery were caught before they got off the island. Not much damage was done to either buggies or drivers.

THE REPUBLICAN BLOW-OUT. The meeting in Peal's hall last night was attended by all the big guns of the republican party in this neck of the woods, and also by General Henderson from another district. Parson Morgan was the first speaker, and his language, though sometimes bordering on the sanguine, was not so deeply dyed as has been some of his former speeches, spoken before he became a candidate for sheriff. He seems to feel that the time is past when men can ride into office, dragged there by the dogs of war.

He hinted to the German citizens that this was a law-abiding country, and that the laws must be obeyed, and that for foreigners coming here could not expect to bring their customs with them, especially when they were contrary and against the laws of this country; that all here must be subject to the laws. He gave the recent trouble with the anarchists in Chicago as the result of regarding foreign ideas here. He talked much of law—seemed to want to give the impression that if he is elected, they shall be executed, and the violators also. He concluded by asking, "What assurance can you have that the law will be faithfully administered by one, who, with impunity, violates the law every day of his life?" He did not say who he meant, but all knew it was his opponent for office, and this is the first time, in an open and public way, that the slightest charge was ever made against the integrity of purpose of his opponent in any shape whatever, in the hearing or under the observation of the writer during all that time.

What did the parson mean? Egotism seems to be a leading trait in the character of the parson, for he said some people were astonished that "so good" a man would enter the political arena and repeated it. He said "he was proud of the fact that the people recognized in him the elements of true manhood." He said he "made pledges to no man," this shows he has a little honesty left, for he is morally persuaded he could never fulfill them. He spoke loudly and with much vigor, not at all like an invalid suffering with a bad throat disease, and this thought must have occurred to many. Can it be possible that this man cannot preach the gospel any longer because of disease in the throat?

Mr. Henderson came next, and after waving the bloody shirt for a short time, turned his attention to the tariff and advocated high protection to the close. He said tracked several times to criticize the present administration, but could not do so—because not a spot on a spot—rather praised Cleveland for his honesty of purpose and determination to do the right to all. He said Thomas Jefferson was a protectionist.
